Accelerating money supply and hyperbolic gold

My good friend, the extremely bright and perceptive Alasdair Macleod has posted a superb piece on the True US Money Supply (TMS) growth and the effect this will have on the Gold price. Alasdair shows an extremely interesting Gold projection chart. It demonstrates how Gold will become hyperbolic in the next few years with the vertical rise starting in 2014.

This is very much in line with my forecast of unlimited money printing and hyperinflation.
