

Swiss would need to buy $70 billion gold

written by Edward Maas | September 6, 2014

KWN weekly – September 5, 2014

Egon von Greyerz: “Looking around the world it is astounding how investors are ignoring risk in their investment strategy. Global stock markets are in bubble territory, but the massive liquidity and the lemming mentality of investors have led to a total disregard of the risks that stocks represent today....”

In this Interview:

- Stocks and Bonds
- ECB
- Swiss Gold Initiative

Click here to read the interview