

EvG, MetallWoche Interview, May 11

written by Edward Maas | May 16, 2012

“In an audio interview with Michael Harwath of the German site Metallwoche (Metal week) on May 11, Egon von Greyerz discusses how one domino after the other is falling and that there will be contagion spreading throughout the European financial system. Egon also talks about the derivative $ 1 quadrillion time bomb after the massive JP Morgan losses. Finally he reassures investors that the correction in gold is likely to soon be over and that physical gold is still the absolutely best protection against the coming flood of money printing.”

Click arrow to listen