

Silver Will Lead The Way To New Highs

written by Egon von Greyerz | March 24, 2016

Silver Will Lead The Way To New Highs

By Egon von Greyerz

In this week's KWN interview Egon von Greyerz discusses why the world economy is getting closer to the Minsky Moment – an unexpected collapse of asset values together with an implosion of debt that financed the asset bubbles.

Egon also discusses the road that governments have taken that, after a temporary hyper inflationary period, will not only lead the world into a deflationary collapse but also to the end of the current monetary system.

What does that mean for Gold and Silver? Egon further highlights interesting developments in the Precious Metals Markets with a particular focus on Silver as an extremely exciting investment opportunity. Are we seeing Silver hitting $660?

For further detail and insight please click here to see my latest KWN interview.

Egon von Greyerz
Matterhorn.gold
GoldSwitzerland.com