

The Fed has destroyed the financial system

written by Edward Maas | December 29, 2013

The 100 year experiment of central banks destroying paper money is coming to an end. This will lead to major changes in the world.

In this audio interview I discuss what some of these changes are such as the fall of the dollar, stock markets and bond markets. I also discuss the various factors that will lead to a major rise in gold in 2014.

Please click here to listen to the audio interview on KWN

Egon von Greyerz